▲みんなで緑を育てる。

The town revolves around its citizens and its territory. Through volunteers, the nature and the environment are being protected. Parks, roads, train stations, rivers, hills, etc. are all being well maintained. Of particular note, Takako Marsh, a symbol of Hobara, is being rejuvenated. In the mountains and hills trees are being replanted and flowers grown along streets and in parks. All this is an effort to protect life in and around the town of Hobara.
